Miller's Straight Campaign.

Governor MILLER goes straight to the heart of every public issue and then handles it with downright honesty and nothing but downright honposes the sham and humbug of the State Democratic platform on light wines and beer when he says:

Democratic Sandidate for Governor that if he is elected the people can have light wines and beer.

"He knows, you know, and every intelligent citizen knows that whether he is elected Governor or whether I the Governor of this State and the Legislature of this State cannot, if they would, give the people of this State light wines and beer. Every one gress of the United States are su eme over anything which the State of New York might or could do."

As a matter of fact, Governor Mil-LER himself is so little in sympathy with the prohibition principle that when the Prohibition party offered to put him at the head of its ticket he varuede to fet his name go there. He told the Prohibition leaders frankly that he was opposed to their doctrine. He was enforcing the national dry laws to the best of his ability, not because he liked those laws but because it was his duty so to enforce them as long as he was the Governor of the State of New York, as it would be the duty of any other Governor. And under those circumstances he refused to let his name appear on the Prohibition ticket, although that would mean tens of thousands of dry votes for him, because he was not willing to take Prohibition votes under false

In the same way Governor MILLER the truth to the wets. No matter what farmer's relief came with that? he thinks about national prohibition, and he is not willing to get the vote that? of anybody in the State on the false pretense that he could.

And as for the Democratic web the Democratic wet platform, Governor Marres declares:

"Neither an act of the Legislature, an amendment of our State Constitution for any referendum to the people of this State could affect the situation in the slightest, or amount to as much as a gesture, and the man who is seeking votes on the pretense that it would, merely insults the intelligence of those to whom that appeal is made."

Honesty in the capacity of Chief Executive, honesty in the capacity of the candidate for reelection, honesty in all things, courage in all thingsthat is the man who is telling the truth to the voters of New York city in this last week of his open, and aboveboard campaign.
